Rev. Joseph H. Robinson of Old Bennington gave an interesting and instructive talk this morning to a large audience at the Mt. Anthony Country club on the subject of Julius Caesar.

Leslie Carrier, John Weber, and M. E. Burnham have completed a very substantial and attractive stairway at the Union street entrance to the village cemetery. The improvement was made by private subscription under the management of Miss Annie E. Dakin.

Persons, who attended the first production of Julius Caesar at the Clarke Wood last evening are unanimous in the opinion that the people of this vicinity are being given an opportunity to witness a theatrical event of unusual merit. Not only is the drama being carried out correctly, from a professional standpoint, but the surroundings add an element of grandeur that it is impossible to secure in any theatre. The organization which is sponsor for the play has given Bennington a reputation for public spirit that is country-wide. This reputation is to a certain degree at stake while the play is being given and, in the language of the street, "it is up to" the Bennington public to sustain the record that the public welfare association has acquired in recent years.

HATCHERY SITE PURCHASED

State Acquires Land and Springs on the Edward Bushnell Farm.

Seven acres of land, the water rights to two springs and two brooks and a power privilege on the South stream were acquired Thursday evening by the state fish and game department from Edward Bushnell. Negotiations have been in progress for some time but it has not been possible to close the transaction at an earlier date.

In the opinion of Commissioner Titcomb and his assistant, E. S. Casselman of Dorset, the department has now secured a hatchery site that will meet all requirements. There is sufficient water and the springs are located on high enough ground to give all the fall that will be required.

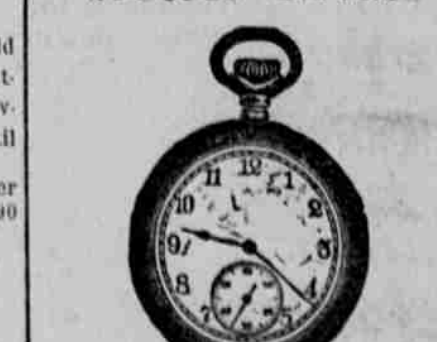

The outfit, which was installed at Arlington to test the "duck pond" spring, will be moved to the new site as soon as Warden Higgins can make the arrangements.

It is probable that the permanent hatchery will be built before snow flies in order that fry and fingerlings may be produced for the 1917 planting.
